

Husky fex-21

High Performance Wireless handheld computer

- The Itronix fex21 is a versatile, rugged and environmentally immune handheld computer.
- It meets military standards for impact resistance, water and temperature extremes.
- The fex21 combines powerful processing, simplified applications development, enabled with next generation technology including GPRS and Bluetooth.
- In addition, the touch screen of the handheld can be used as a sketchpad, to capture drawings, sketches and signatures, while a digital camera can be interfaced to attach photographs to assets.

Specification

Click for more information or Pricing

